Is there a fellowship in your future??

The mission of the Office for Fellowships is to assist Vassar students and recent graduates as they apply for fellowships and other funding opportunities to continue their academic pursuits or to explore their special interests through organized fellowship programs or independent but focused study, either in the US or abroad. This list is a collection of a variety of fellowship/study programs and opportunities. Some of them are extremely competitive, others are less so. Some require a Vassar nomination, endorsement, or evaluation while others may be applied for independently, frequently using an application that may be found on the web. This is not a comprehensive list...rather, it is a list of programs and opportunities that Vassar students have applied for with success, in the past.

In addition to this list, you will find some interesting handouts in the office. Please review the contents of the bookshelf and the file folders and ask for copies of anything that interests you. There are many samples of successful fellowship applications on file that can be read and reviewed in the office. The office also has a webpage that can be accessed from the Vassar home page. You will find PDF files of additional information and applications for several of the major fellowship competitions at this location and links to the Foundations as well as a table with deadline information.

Individual appointments are always available. Call the office or stop by to schedule a time to speak about your interests. The work of the office is supported by the Vassar faculty Committee on Fellowships...an eight member committee chaired by the Dean of Studies.

Other resources:

Perhaps a "fellowship" is not really what you are looking for but, how do you know? Here are some other resources that could be of assistance to you:

1. Your faculty members, particularly those in the fields that are of interest to you, can give you some ideas about various options you might consider if you are interested in advance study. Faculty will also be an excellent resource as you work through the application process. Use them wisely and well.

2. The Career Development Office: It is possible that what you are really looking for is more of a “paying job” than a fellowship opportunity. The CDO’s extensive website and V-Net files of Vassar Alums can be of great assistance to you. The CDO will offer important workshops and programs to help you to think about your career choices and prepare to apply for jobs.

3. Scholarship Search Engines can be found at http://fellowships.vassar.edu/pdfs/Scholarships.pdf?07

I look forward to being of assistance to you as you explore the wonderful world of fellowships. Please let us know how we can be helpful to you.
